

Ashish Gupta

Profile

I am an Australian Orthopaedic Surgeon with special interest in Arthroscopic Shoulder Surgery and Primary and Revision Shoulder Arthroplasty.

I gained my primary medical degree in India and then completed my Orthopaedic Training in Queensland, Australia to qualify as an Orthopaedic Surgeon.

I have since sub-specialised in Shoulder and sports Surgery by completing prestigious International Shoulder and Sports Fellowships in France, Germany and Canada.

I am an innovative surgeon who believes that the foundations for best patient care are built upon team work, skill, research, collaboration and training.

My special interests lie in biomechanics and surgical skill transference.

I am passionate about research, training and providing healthcare to the underprivileged.

Born in India and raised all over the world. I completed my MBBS in Manipal, India and moved to Australia where I completed my training in Orthopaedics and was awarded the Fellowship by the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons (FRACS Orth).

Married to Dr Gina Hsu who is an anaesthetist.
